STAT OF THE WEEK

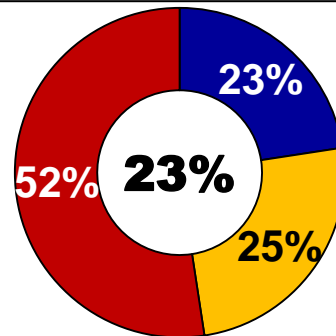

Employee Retention in T&T

Over half (56%) of employees in T&T plan to stay with their organizations for a long time, but only about a quarter (23%) would stay even if offered another job with better compensation, while over half (52%) say they wouldn't.

I plan to stay with my company for a long time.

Even if another company offered me a job with more pay and benefits, I would still remain with my company.

These results suggest that employees will stay with their organization as long as they don't get a better offer from another one. Is compensation the only thing keeping your employees from leaving?
